- generate tests from models that describe how the interface should be used (for example task models);
- support parameterising the tests using information about the data to be used, the number of users to be simulated, etc;
- run the tests on the application interface and collect the results for analysis.

In this way, it will be possible to perform load tests to Web applications, with a minimum of effort in the test generation phase.

3. BRIEF PRESENTATION OF THE WORK PROGRAMME AND TRAINING:

- elaboration of a survey on solutions for automating interface layer tests
- elaboration of a survey about solutions for automation of load tests;
