Application development in Android Studio, as well as functionality and use tests together with clinicians for validation and improvement. Analysis and verification of the recording of the signals to be acquired as well as the organization of patients in a local database to be implemented (SQLite).

3. BRIEF PRESENTATION OF THE WORK PROGRAMME AND TRAINING:

Familiarization with the area of mobile applications in biomedical engineering, as well as the functioning of the wearable devices to be used. Design, validation and implementation of an application to capture data from wearable devices in a hospital environment. Interaction with clinical teams in order to validate and improve the application. Preparing work-related presentations, as well as creating the necessary documentation and tutorials for using the application.

4. REQUIRED PROFILE:

Admission requirements:

The candidate must be a Master's student or have a degree in Biomedical Engineering, Computer Engineering, Software Engineering, Computer Science or equivalent.

The awarding of the fellowship is dependent on the applicants' enrolment in study cycle or non-award courses of Higher Education Institutions.

Preference factors:

Past experience in the development and testing of mobile applications in Android Studio in the area of biomedical engineering with integration of wearable devices with bluetooth and Bluetooth Low Energy (GATT protocol) with acquisition of continuous vital signs.

Minimum requirements:

Good knowledge and experience in the development of mobile applications in Android Studio, as well as familiarity with the integration of wearable devices in the health area through Bluetooth in Android applications. The candidate should already have knowledge in code version control systems (GitHub, GitLab)

5. EVALUATION OF APPLICATIONS AND SELECTION PROCESS:

Selection criteria and corresponding valuation: the first phase comprises the Academic Evaluation (AC), based on the criteria referred to in Article 12 of the Regulations for Grants of INESC TEC, while the second phase comprehends the Individual Interview (EI). All factors are evaluated on a scale of 0 to 100, taking into account the applicants' merit, suitability and conformity with the preference factors.

The weight of the AC factors are as follows: Academic Qualifications (FA, 40%), Scientific Publications (PC, 5%), Experience (EX, 30%) and Motivation Letter (CM, 25%).

Candidates who score less than 50 points in the AC average will be considered excluded on absolute merit. The top five candidates approved on absolute merit will be qualified for the individual interview. The Final Grade (CF) is obtained by the weighted average of AC (60%) and EI (40%).

The Selection Jury is composed of the following members:

President of the Jury: Francesco Renna
Full member: Susana Cristina Rodrigues
Full member: Miguel Coimbra
Substitute member:

Release of results and prior hearing: the results of the selection process, as well as the terms and procedures for prior hearing, will be released to the applicants by email, under the terms referred to in Article 13 of the Regulations for Studentships and Fellowships of INESC TEC.

6. FORMALISATION OF APPLICATIONS:

Application Documents:

1. Motivation letter;
2. Curriculum Vitae (must include the list of previous fellowships, their type, beginning and end dates, funding entities and host institutions);
3. Certificate or diploma degree fully recognised in Portugal;
 - Documents proving the awarding of academic degrees and diplomas, or the according recognition - in cases of academic degrees or diplomas granted by a foreign higher education institution - can be dismissed in the application process, and replaced by the applicant's declaration of honour, with the verification of said condition taking place during the grant's hiring stage. The submission of the certificate is mandatory when signing the contract.
 - Academic degrees or diplomas awarded by a foreign higher education institution require an authentication by a Portuguese higher education institution, and the corresponding registration on the DGES platform, in conformity with Decree-Law no. 66/2018, of August 16, and Ordinance no. 33/2019, of January 25.
