2. OBJECTIVES:

Set up a coherent optical communication system capable of generating and transmitting data through standard single-mode optical fibers. Design and perform experiments to simulate submarine cable deformations and study their effects on signal phase and polarization.

3. BRIEF PRESENTATION OF THE WORK PROGRAMME AND TRAINING:

This research project focuses on the application of coherent optical communication systems in submarine cables. The aim is to exploit the phase and polarization information of transmitted signals to enable distributed sensing along the cable. The project seeks to transform existing submarine communication infrastructure into a large-scale sensor network for the detection and monitoring of geophysical phenomena.

4. REQUIRED PROFILE:

Admission requirements:

Degree in Electrical Engineering or Physical Engineering and attending a master's degree in the same area.
The awarding of the fellowship is dependent on the applicants' enrolment in study cycle or non-award courses of Higher Education Institutions.

Preference factors:

Experience in RF electronics and optical communications

Minimum requirements:

Knowledge in electromagnetic waves and communications.

5. EVALUATION OF APPLICATIONS AND SELECTION PROCESS:

Selection criteria and corresponding valuation: the first phase comprises the Academic Evaluation (AC), based on the criteria referred to in Article 12 of the Regulations for Grants of INESC TEC, while the second phase comprehends the Individual Interview (EI).
